REBUILD THE TWIN TOWERS! Nothing has rewarded the jihadists more than the ongoing sight of a world landmark wiped off the face of the earth.

— Dan Taylor / Citizen of Other Nations

The world was robbed of the 21st-century Twin Towers most of us always wanted.

I remember in 1988 visiting NYC and the first place I went was the WTC. I remember the awe and excitement of the twin towers. The view from one, the north tower I think, was so incredible I have never been able to top it. The twin towers made NYC far more different and impressive than any other city. Without the towers, NYC is just another big city, just another city with it's own type of attitude. My heart sank on 9/11, rebuild the towers and all our hearts will be lifted in inspiration.

Let's cease and desist with all of this incessant bureaucratic tail-chasing and rebuild the World Trade Center in its majestic entirety, EXACTLY as it stood prior to 9/11/01. The Greatest City in the World (and

To build anything less than the twin towers would be giving our enemies what they want. We must rebuild, because if we don't, they win. Show them our strength, our resolve, our determination to preserve our freedom.

I was a New Yorker all my life, but now live in Florida. NY is just not the same anymore. I made a vow that if they ever rebuild the towers, I would move back to Brooklyn.

Rebuild. Simply put. I think that it would be more of a slap in the face to those who did this to us if we rebuild, than the "slap on the face" we Americans endured on 9/11. I first visited NYC for one reason only. To see the Twin Towers, I didn't care if I liked the city, I didn't care if I ever wanted to go back (which by the way I love NYC and will return many times in my life) but I wanted to see the towers. I am lucky to have seen them while they stood. I am proud to be an American.

These two beacons should emerge from the dust of ground zero.
Once they are back again, the face of the real free world shall be restored and terrorism have finally failed.

The Twin Towers, to me at least, stood for our country's financial center and a proud monument to the people who deal with our finances. When they were taken down, we not only lost over 3,000 people along with very pricey property, we lost the SYMBOL of our finances and our accomplishments. To rebuild the towers as they were (built stronger, of course) we would be respecting those who gave their lives, their loved-one's lives and those of us who just simply felt assaulted and violated.

I think the towers should rise again. They were great symbols in New York and of America. They need to stand once again. They were ours and the terrorists took them from us. Let's send them a message that we are not intimidated by their act against us. To build anything less shows our fear and inability to protect ourselves against future attacks.

We will not sanitize controversial remarks if the comments are primarily in support of the petition's purpose. But off-topic remarks are subject to removal on a case-by-case basis to keep the focus where it belongs. Thank you.

Important Mention: Those who read back over the comments will find that from time to time we have highlighted excerpts to help those who only have time to skim a page get a sense of what people are thinking and feeling. We rarely do that now and it was never a methodical effort, but just a window on public opinion regarding this monumentally important issue. The important thing to know is that no comment matters more than any other. Each one is valued and helps make the case that the public was sidelined on something that mattered so much.

TTA Note: Occasionally a current signature will disappear. When that happens it is because someone who has already signed the petition signs a second time and when the second signature is validated the two are automatically merged and appear in the original chronology. If someone leaves a second signature and comment, it automatically overwrites the earlier placement when the validation link is activated. If it isn't activated, or it is made using a different email address, there will be duplicate signatures. When we recognize that someone has signed before, we will delete the earlier entry and, if it was verified, verify the new one, since the clear intention is to make the new comment visible. We may decide to manually include the earlier comment at the end of the current message.

Regarding anonymous signatures: Taking a stand using one's full name is always preferred, but when a name is withheld, the signature and sentiments are still of value. In every case, we have an email address that corresponds with the entry and is kept private.
